With the transition to semesters as well as going from Academic advisors as FS instructors to department faculty, it will be interesting to see if the data has changed for 2013-2014. Comments:

 80% will be changed to 70% due to the past two years trend showing that most students with level B and C English needed more than 3 quarters to complete the English requirement courses and before applying for a major.

* Due to a recent change of the eligibility criteria, students with A and B level English are required to complete level B III English course first before applying for a major. This requires five quarters total. Same for the students with higher level English are expected to pass Written Communication 2 before applying for an Associate or Bachelor degree program. The 80% will be changed to 70%.
