TLS IS A CHAMPION OF EFFECTIVE TEACHING BY FACULTY ACROSS THE INSTITUTE

TLS supports faculty in gaining greater competence in the intersections between Pedagogy, Technology, and Content Knowledge.

TLS will help RIT faculty to:

- Engage in reflective practices about teaching and learning
- Establish and strengthen relationships with colleagues across disciplines, colleges, and ranks
- Make pedagogical choices based on evidence from literature and/or one's own teaching practice
- Effectively manage a learning environment, whether physical or virtual
- Use instructional technology and/or multimedia to support student learning
- Create assignments and/or courses that support higher-level learning

What kind of questions?

COURSE DESIGN AND DEVELOPMENT

- What should be in my syllabus?
 - How can I write clear, measurable learning outcomes?
 - What kinds of learning activities can I use to engage students?
 - How do I design and develop an online course?
 - How do I teach online?
 - Can I flip my course?
 - Who can give me feedback on my teaching style?

ACADEMIC TECHNOLOGY AND MEDIA

- Who can show me how to use myCourses?
- How can I add videos and other media to my course?
- How can I create my own videos?
- How do I get videos captioned?
- Can I bring in a guest speaker remotely?

A screenshot of the myCourses LOGIN interface. On the left is a dark sidebar with a "LOGIN" header, "Use your RIT Account" text, an orange "RIT Login" button, an "FAQ - RIT Computer Account" link, and two bullet points: "Forgot your password?" and "Can't log in?". At the bottom of the sidebar is a "Non RIT Account Login" button. The main content area has a background image of a classroom and a dark overlay with the "MYCOURSES LOGIN" header. Below the header, it states: "myCourses allows instructors and students to interact and access course materials online. A variety of tools are available to instructors to promote interaction and provide resources." Below this, a line of text reads: "Review Get ready for myCourses for information on preparing your web browser for myCourses. In the myCourses Help and Resources review the Basic Introduction to get started. Instructors will also want to visit the Additional Instructor Information." At the bottom are four icons in boxes: a lightbulb for "Help and Resources", an open book for "On Campus Student Support", a person at a laptop for "RIT Online Student Support", and a group of people for "Faculty Support".
