Bob Craig named 2003 COLA Distinguished Alumni

Bob Craig, Director of Campus Safety, was recently honored at the Alumni Awards Dinner at the RIT Inn and Conference Center as the 2003 COLA Distinguished Alumni.

“The award is extremely humbling to me,” he said. “I owe much of my success to the RIT community—this school means an awful lot to me.”

Among his list of lifetime achievements, Craig served 22 years in the Rochester Police Department (Captain of the Highland Precinct, Lieutenant in the Professional Development Division, Sergeant in the Internal Affairs and Patrol Division, and Deputy Chief of Police). He was appointed Director of Campus Safety in August of 2000.

Craig graduated from the Criminal Justice program in 1976 and continued his education at RIT in the Career and Human Resource Development masters program in 1993. He finished his post-graduate work in 1995 and continues to take courses here at RIT. Congratulations Bob!

The Last Brick
Alumni News

Professional & Technical Communication

Carol Dombrowski ('93) is a manager of global people development for Ebay.

Monica Haley ('03) is a graduate student at the University of Rhode Island.

Andrew Kieniksman ('91) is a regulatory specialist for Pace International in Seattle.

Bryan Howell ('99) is a writer for Xbox sports and racing games for Microsoft.

Richard Mislans ('91) is a professor for graduate programs in the college of business for Ferris.

Psychology

Kathleen Woodside ('02) is currently working towards her PhD at the University of Buffalo.

Criminal Justice

Michael Laba ('97) was most recently on the staff of Donald Rumsfield, the U.S. Secretary of Defense. He has left that position to run for congressman of his District.

Kriss Sniffen ('88) is a security officer for the University of Rochester.

Corey McNeil ('02) is a police officer with the Greece Police Department in Rochester.

Pietro Mistretta ('94) is a staff attorney for Beretta U.S.A Corporation in Accokeek, Maryland.

Economics

John Linchan ('92) works in Tokyo, Japan as a practice director for Oracle Corporation.

Social Work

Martha O'Brien ('98) is an elementary school teacher of children with special needs in Framingham, MA.

Irene Jacobs ('78) was appointed by Arizona Governor, Janet Napolito, to be the director of the School Readiness Board.

Anne Fitzsimons-Ryan ('82) currently works as a realtor for Long & Foster Realtors in Maryland.

Marina Rossit ('98) works for The Center for Disability Rights in Rochester as a Medicaid service coordinator and acting supervisor.

SEND US YOUR NEWS... If you are an alumni of the College of Liberal Arts, we'd love to hear from you. Fill out your information in the “Alumni” section of our new Liberal Smarts website. We'd love to feature you in the Spring issue!