Winter/Spring 2013

Dear Open House Registrant:

We have received your reservation for our Accepted Student Open House on Friday, April 5, 2013 and are looking forward to having you on campus. The enclosed schedule outlines the activities we have planned for your visit.

Enclosed you will find a campus map, a visitor parking permit, and directions to RIT. When you arrive on campus, please follow the signs to parking lots D or G, and display your parking permit on the dashboard of your vehicle. Once you park your vehicle, please follow the signs to the lobby of the Gordon Field House (GOR on the enclosed map) where our staff and students will be available to greet you and help you plan your day. Coffee and continental breakfast will be served following Check-In and the Opening Session will begin at 9:00 a.m.

We are pleased to invite you to a light lunch hosted by your college after the formal academic meetings. However, if you would like to have lunch in our student cafeteria, Gracie’s, you are welcome to do so. Lunch passes for Gracie’s can be purchased during Check-In or at the door for $8.50 per person.

A group session regarding financial aid will be held in the afternoon. This session is designed to answer the most frequently asked questions at this point in a student’s college selection process. We have enclosed an overview of the most popular questions we receive. If you have questions that we haven’t answered in our written materials, you are welcome to contact the Office of Financial Aid and Scholarships now.

Since all of our Accepted Student Open House events are optional, we recommend reviewing the enclosed schedule before you arrive. Please contact us in the Admissions Office if you have questions, or if we can assist you with planning your visit. We look forward to having you on campus, and congratulations on your acceptance to RIT!

Sincerely,

[Signature]

Daniel R. Shelley, Ph.D.
Assistant Vice President and Director of Undergraduate Admissions

Do You Have Financial Aid and Scholarship Questions?

Many of the frequently asked questions we receive from families are addressed below. Every student has a financial aid counselor, who will be happy to answer any questions we have not answered either here or in the materials that accompany financial aid award notifications.

Q: Once I receive my financial aid award notification, what should I do next?
A: Review the award and the materials enclosed with your award. If you want to accept all awards listed, you (the student) should sign the award letter and return it to the address at the top of the award letter. Beginning mid-May, we will send you reminder letters to let you know what additional documents you may need to submit for the accepted awards.

Check Financial Aid Self-Service to read detailed explanations of each type of aid offered, and then check for and complete any missing or incomplete documents. You can also calculate your anticipated cost of attendance and provide any parent or other third party with access so they can view your financial aid award.

Q: How does the Federal Work-Study Program Work?
A: New students will receive their fall class schedules in August, which helps you determine your availability outside of class/lab time for a part-time job. Positions for the Fall 2013 semester will be posted closer to the start of the semester, and are posted through the Student Employment Office (SEO) Website at www.rit.edu/seo. RIT does not assign or guarantee a part-time job, but the SEO will help facilitate the job search process. Students are paid bi-weekly through a payroll check and these funds can be used for personal expenses throughout the year.

Q: How do I pay for the remaining balance?
A: There are several financing options available. First, review the payment options available through Student Financial Services. They can be found at www.rit.edu/fa/sfs/

The federal PLUS loan is a loan that the parent borrows on the student’s behalf. Currently, the interest rate is fixed at 7.9% and there is an origination fee of 4% that is assessed on the loan. Parents may defer repayment until after the student ceases to be enrolled at least half-time or graduates with up to a 10 year repayment period on the loan. To begin the 2013-2014 PLUS loan application process, complete both the Parent PLUS Loan application and the separate Promissory Note online after April 1st at www.studentloans.gov. As a Parent Borrower, you (the parent) will use your Federal Student Aid PIN as your electronic signature for both the application and the promissory note.

Alternative (or non-Federal) loans are private loans in the student’s name with a co-signer. We encourage students and families to use alternative loans as a last option after first pursuing all federal loan options. These loans have variable interest rates and interest begins accruing once the loan is disbursed. Actual repayment on the loans usually begins 6 months after the student is no longer enrolled. Students may use any lender they choose for an alternative loan. Advice on how to evaluate alternative loans can be found at www.rit.edu/emcs/financialaid/responsible_borrowing.html.

Information accurate as of January 2013
Q: My financial situation has changed. What should I do?
   A: You should submit a letter to the Office of Financial Aid and Scholarships describing the change. We will review the new information and recalculate your financial aid eligibility. You should also provide documentation of the change (e.g. termination letter, copies of medical bills) as well as specific dollar amounts (e.g. amount paid out in medical/dental expenses, projected amount of decrease in annual income). A change in a family’s financial situation can be reviewed any time during the academic year. Please note that we must receive this information in writing in order to properly document a change in your financial situation.

Q: Can you explain the loans on the Award Letter?
   A: There are full descriptions of the loans in the Understanding your Undergraduate Financial Aid Award booklet. Here is a brief overview:

Subsidized Direct Loan: This is a federal loan and the student is the borrower. The government pays the interest while the student is in school. Repayment begins 6 months after the student leaves school or ceases to be enrolled at least half-time. The federal government assesses an origination fee.

Unsubsidized Direct Loan: This is a federal loan and the student is the borrower. The interest begins accruing while the student is in school. Students will have the option to pay the interest while in school or to defer both interest and principle payments until 6 months after they drop below half-time enrollment (capitalize the interest). The federal government assesses an origination fee.

Perkins Loan: This is a federal loan and the student is the borrower. The government pays the interest while the student is in school and through the grace period. Repayment begins 9 months after the student leaves school. Perkins loans are awarded only to students who have significant financial need remaining after all other federal, state and RIT funding has been offered.

Q: Are there any other scholarships that I can apply for through RIT?
   A: We encourage students to seek out additional scholarships. Our website www.rit.edu/financialaid provides links to many free, reputable scholarship search engines. Please let the Office of Financial Aid & Scholarships know if you have obtained additional scholarships so we may reflect it accurately on your Award Letter.

Q: Will my aid change if I live at home instead of RIT housing?
   A: Your award(s) may be adjusted if you live at home and are not charged for housing and meals by RIT. Please contact our office if you would like to have your award recalculated because of your change in housing status.

Q: I have read all of the materials and I still have questions. Should I wait until I’m at the Open House to ask those questions?
   A: No! Take care of your questions now so you have more time to explore during Open House. Every student has a financial aid counselor who is happy to answer any questions we have not answered in our written materials. Financial aid counselors are listed on our web page, along with their email addresses. Additional contact information is below:
