

Faculty Leadership Program

January and June 2018

Cornell University

Program Overview

This program offers participants an opportunity to gain leadership and personal effectiveness skills, reflect on career and personal goals, and connect with colleagues. Case-based and experiential learning help faculty shape their future by enhancing self-awareness about personal style and its impact in the academic environment.

Participants will apply their experience and knowledge to situations consistent with challenges in academic institutions today. A colleague feedback process begins during the program and continues with a formal 360 degree feedback process followed by three personal coaching sessions to review feedback data and integrate it with each individual's personal development plan.

Program Details

Audience: Faculty and senior level academic professionals

Dates Offered: January 8-12, 2018
June 18-22, 2018

Cost: $1600

Seats Available: Capped at 20 persons

Registration:
Rehana Huq rh24@cornell
Pam Strausser ps34@cornell.edu