

Faculty Career Development promotes faculty success through programs and services at all stages of your career. Check out our Faculty Success Series for spring 2019 below.

Mid-Semester Writing Micro-Retreat

Fri, March 8, 11:30-3:30 pm

<http://bit.ly/Micro-Retreat>

Do you have a scholarly writing project due during Spring Break that you want to jump-start? Are you shifting from research-mode to writing-mode? If “yes” come to the writing micro-retreat!

Faculty Promotion-Presenting a Strong Case: A Discussion with the Provost and Senior Leaders

Friday, March 22, 2:30-4 pm

<http://bit.ly/Strategies-Mar22>

For faculty preparing promotion packages to full professor or senior/principal lecturer, campus leaders will serve on a discussion panel to include Provost Ellen Granberg and college deans.

Publish & Flourish: Become a Prolific Scholar

Wed, March 27, 9-11 am

<http://bit.ly/TaraGray-AM>

Triple your productivity. Avoid blistering reviews and rejections. Write prose that is clearer, better organized, and more compelling. Even when you can't work harder, there are important ways to work smarter.

Publish & Flourish: Revising Scholarly Manuscripts

Wed, March 27, 12-2 pm

<http://bit.ly/TaraGray-AM>

Organization is the skeleton of a manuscript, its very structure. Get it right and the manuscript works. Get it wrong and it doesn't. In this workshop, you will develop and work from a “reverse” or “after-the-fact” outline on one section of a manuscript you bring.

Pitching and Publishing Your Next (or First) Book

Fri, April 5, 11:00-12:30 pm

<http://bit.ly/Pitching-Publishing>

Meet the RIT Press team and learn how to pitch your idea for a book to a publisher, the manuscript peer review and editorial process, design and production procedures, and marketing practices for academic books.

Faculty Promotion-University & College Promotion Policies

Thur, April 18, 2:30-4pm

<http://bit.ly/PromotionGuidelines-Apr18>

Covers university and college-level policy on promotion (E6.0) to full professor or senior/principal lecturer. Topics include promotion requirements and timeline; and strategies for listing accomplishments in scholarship, service, and teaching.

Faculty Promotion-External Letters and Research Statements

Fri, May 3, 2:30-4 pm

<http://bit.ly/ExternalLetters-May3>

This interactive session is for faculty preparing promotion packages to full professor and covers preparation of materials for external reviewers.

Faculty Appreciation Coffee Break –

Tuesday, April 30, 10-12 pm. 1st Floor
Wallace Library. All faculty are welcome; registration is not required

---

Faculty Career Development designs events during the academic year based on topics our faculty community suggests. If there is something you might suggest for future events please let us know your ideas at FCDS@rit.edu. Visit our website to learn more about FCD: rit.edu/facultydevelopment

--