

FACULTY-LED STUDY ABROAD PROGRAMS

Travel Interruption/Cancelation

RIT Education Abroad reserves the right to cancel or modify the program at any time, for any reason, before or after departure. For example, reasons may include insufficient program enrollment, travel advisories, etc.

In the event that the travel portion of the course is canceled or interrupted, RIT Global will work with faculty to ensure that RIT's guidelines on Continuity of Instruction is followed. Course continuity may include changing the location, delivering the course online, etc.

While RIT cannot guarantee refunds, if RIT cancels the program due to unforeseen circumstances, we will make every effort to recoup funds and refund students as much as possible.
