

Study Abroad In Sweden

RIT Exchange Program

Malmö University

Malmö University is committed to innovative and collaborative learning with 5 research centers and 30 programs taught in English. As a partner university of RIT, students receive excellent support from the International office while immersing themselves in student life. Each year, over 300 exchange students from all over the world study abroad at Malmö University, offering students an invaluable international experience. An excellent public transportation system, along with biking and walking, provide easy accessibility for students to explore this modern city.
