Course Details:

ECON 405 - International Trade & Finance (3 credits)

Pre-Req: ECON 101

Counts towards an economics immersion or minor.

Program Dates:
May 16-June 6, 2019

Application Deadline:
February 16, 2020

1) Go to rit.edu/studyabroad and login to the Compass to start an application.
2) Meet with a study abroad advisor (email global@rit.edu for an appointment.

SUMMER 2020

2 weeks in Croatia
1 week in Hungary

GLOBAL TRADE & FINANCE
Zagreb, Croatia & Budapest, Hungary

◊ Analyze the commercial trade policies that have influenced the economies of two countries relatively new to the European Union.

◊ Experience history in the making as Brexit redefines traditional global financial practices.

◊ Visit global financial institutions to learn first-hand how they operate.

◊ Explore two off-the-beaten-path European cities that offer a compelling history, rich culinary traditions, impressive architecture, museums and sightseeing.

◊ Pay discounted tuition for 3 credits.

TO APPLY:

1) Go to rit.edu/studyabroad and login to the Compass to start an application.
2) Meet with a study abroad advisor (email global@rit.edu for an appointment.

Scholarships available!*

◊ $500-$1,000 travel grants
◊ Scholarships to cover airfare

Scholarships available!*

◊ $500-$1,000 travel grants
◊ Scholarships to cover airfare

*Students considered for scholarships as part of application. Awards based on financial need.
Two scholarships for airfare available for summer faculty-led or global campus programs.