

Current January/February 2020 Events

(Stay tuned for updates)

Honors students are required to complete 20 hours of Complementary Learning each year. This year, these 20 hours can be fulfilled by time spent in traditional service and leadership activities or by attending events from a curated list of opportunities that ask you to engage in the larger academic and cultural life of the university. Some of these are listed below.

The service and leadership portion of your complementary learning should be at least 10 hours.

A maximum of 2 hours will be recorded, per event from the curated list and please note that some events have a fee and require registration.

As with traditional service and leadership, activity from the curated must be accompanied by a thoughtful reflection on your experience in order to count toward the complementary learning requirement. Please use the Additional Comments section of your submission to reflect on these experiences.
