

CHASE THE CASE

Juried Art Competition for Webb Auditorium Display Cases

Description

Students are invited to submit proposals for a site-specific installation. The installation will be in the display cases outside of Webb Auditorium in Booth Building. Proposals can be sculptural, paintings, prints, drawings, video and other forms of visual and 3-dimensional art work across a range of media. Students are highly encouraged to create site-specific installation works for the cases and consider how these spaces might be altered from their original state.

1 student (or 1 student collaborative team) will be selected to utilize all 3 cases in a cohesive manner. Collaborative proposals are accepted. The works to be displayed will be chosen by a committee of 4 faculty members made up of various programs within the School of Art.

Any technology included in project proposal must be provided by applicant and available during the entirety of the exhibition. Any technology included in project proposal must be provided by applicant and available during the entirety of the exhibition.

There is a $500.00 award, in the form of Tiger Bucks, for the student whose work is selected. Students that submit collaborative proposals will split the $500.00 award.

(Tiger Bucks can be used anywhere on campus.)
