

MINOR IN HUMAN RESOURCE MANAGEMENT

Acquire skills to help create dynamic workforces
for today and tomorrow

RIT | Saunders College of Business

Gain an advantage over other job seekers
by enrolling in the following courses:

HRDE 380 Human Resources Management

Hiring, training, and managing for human resources

HRDE 383 Employee Benefits and Compensation

Compensation structures and rewards systems

HRDE 387 Human Resource Employment Law and Regulations

Current legal policies and guidelines for employment

Take the three courses above, plus MGMT 215 and one additional elective from a list of Saunders College of Business courses, to complete the minor!

Your course instructors have extensive industry experience and collectively have made countless industry connections. They hold the most recognized HR certifications - Senior Certified Professional the Society for Human Resource Management (SHRM).

“

“This minor focuses on the critical functions of a human resources department, such as recruitment, training, compensation, benefits, and employment law, as companies strive to continually innovate to develop contemporary workplace practices and culture to attract and retain top talent” said Dean Jacqueline Mozrall. “The program is a great combination with any other college degree!”

”

Saunders students can schedule a meeting with your academic advisor to declare a minor in Human Resources management!
Non-Saunders students can reach out to Peter Rosenthal at prosenthal@saunders.rit.edu.

2022-02