

Computing Security Student Ambassadors

Student Ambassadors

Computing Security (CSEC) Student Ambassadors are a unique group of students that assist the Computing Security department with their efforts to attract and retain students and represent the department at various events throughout the year. CSEC Student Ambassadors are essential to the success of the program! Once a year, by invitation, current CSEC students are invited to join this group.

Ambassador Responsibilities

The primary role of the CSEC Ambassadors is to interact with prospective students and their families. This will occur through a variety of means including open houses, tours, social events, panel presentations, etc. On occasion, the ambassadors may be asked to provide support to current students in CSEC as well as in the Golisano College of Computing and Information Sciences (GCCIS).

Time Commitment:

- Kickoff Event with the CSEC Ambassador Coordinator
- Represent CSEC at a minimum of 1 events each semester (unless you are on a Co-op)
- Appointment is for 1 academic year

Event Examples:

- Orientation
- CSEC Co-op Seminar
- Fall Open Houses
- Spring Accepted Student Open Houses
- Spring Preview Day
- Transfer Open Houses
- Prospective Family Appointment (student shadow)
- High School Outreach
- CPTC (Collegiate Cyber Defense Competition)
- Industrial Advisory Board Meeting

Do you have what it takes to be a CSEC Ambassador?

Interested students should contact Megan Fritts, Office Manager mcfics@rit.edu for more information.
