Student Club Guidelines AY 2025-26

Student clubs are voluntary organizations that add additional value to the student experience at RIT Croatia. They create belonging and connectedness, allow students to explore activities outside of their academic programs, and offer opportunities for practicing leadership, project, and event management skills.

Students can form clubs based on shared interests and activities they want to pursue with fellow students on a regular basis. Faculty members can serve as mentors to these clubs to offer their expertise.

RIT Croatia supports student clubs by providing a campus advisor and funding to facilitate student club activities. These guidelines provide a framework for how clubs can plan their activities, apply for funding, and manage their finances, ensuring transparency and accountability.

The Student Government's Head of Marketing and Clubs (Eni Vidulić in Zagreb, Lukrecija Novaković in Dubrovnik) are there to assist students in the planning of their club activities and making sure the Student Government provides their support and visibility to the individual clubs.

When planning their activities and budgets, students need to keep in mind the cost-benefit principle. Accepting funding from RIT Croatia requires a commitment to carry out the planned activities and use the funds exclusively for the intended activities. Budgets must be based on the estimated number of participants and the current prices of products and services needed for their activities.

By following these guidelines, student clubs can effectively plan and implement their activities, keep track of their finances, and use their allocated budgets responsibly.

Implementation of Activities

- The club president and vice president are responsible for keeping track of the implementation of planned activities and the spending of the approved club funds.
- The club president or vice president needs to inform the advisor as soon as possible about any difficulties that occur in the organization of the planned activities and result in changes regarding the approved budget. The advisor can guide students in finding a solution to those challenges, e.g., to come up with a new plan for a substitute activity to use the allocated funds. Before spending the funds on a substitute activity or item unforeseen in the proposal, always consult with your advisor!
- Keep in mind to plan events enough in advance so that all payments can be made on time. The Finance Office makes payments once a week, so any vendor you are dealing with needs to be informed about the payment due dates on time.
- Invoices that exceed 150 euros need to be paid based on a written offer by the vendor (not in cash!), so the club President or Vice President needs to request an invoice and send it to the SG advisor and finance office for payment. This is the preferred way of payment and can be made for smaller amounts, as well.
- Any event that requires a cash advance needs to be requested a minimum of 4 days in advance and an email needs to be sent to the SG advisor with a copy to finance@croatia.rit.edu. The email should include:
 - the activity the money is needed for,
 - the amount that needs to be prepared,
 - the name of the club representative who will be responsible for picking up the cash from the Finance Office.
- All invoices that are paid with cash need to be R1 invoices with the following info:

RIT Croatia
Don Frana Bulića 6
20000 Dubrovnik
OIB: 24958681731

If no R1 invoice is returned, the cost is not acceptable, and the issued cash advance must be returned to the Finance Office.

- All original invoices need to be returned to the Finance Office with leftover cash (if any).

Reporting Club Activity and Budget Spending

- To ensure the clubs are implementing their planned activities and using up their allocated funds, at the end of each semester (WK 15), club representatives need to submit a short summary of implemented activities based on their activity and budget plan and spent funds to the advisor. To be able to submit a good report, club representatives need to track their activities and spending throughout the semester.
- If after the fall semester funds foreseen for the student club activities remain undistributed or unused, another call for additional student club activities in the spring semester will be announced.
- Proposed activities and the budget approved for them, that were not implemented in the fall semester, cannot be transferred to the spring semester.
- The quality of the report, implemented activities, and used funds will be taken into the consideration for the allocation of funds in the upcoming academic year.
