

STUDY ABROAD AT RIT CROATIA

ABOUT RIT CROATIA

RIT Croatia offers programs at two campuses:

- in the coastal resort city of Dubrovnik
- country's capital, Zagreb
- RIT Croatia offers three undergraduate programs: International Hospitality and Service Management, International Business and Web and Mobile Computing and Master of Science program in Service Leadership and Innovation

CROATIANS AND THEIR CUSTOMS

Croatians are known for their strong coffee drinking culture, their socializing culture and are considered laid back. They might not be so open in the beginning but once they get to know you they are open and friendly.

Drying cloths outdoors at the fresh air is typical Mediterranean habit. Fresh and slightly salted air gives to a cloths very special smell. Coastal people use this method all year long because winter isn't that cold and rarely snowing.

CLIMATE IN CROATIA

The Croatian climate is generally mild, with Mediterranean climate in the coastal region and mild continental climate in the northeast parts of the country. Zagreb has four seasons and is described to have continental climate.

Overall the weather is quite nice, especially since there is a good distribution of the type of weather as there are no extreme changes.

FOOD IN CROATIA

The Local cuisine is influenced by many surrounding cultures from Italian (especially around the coast), German, French cuisine (continental Croatia) to Hungarian. There are also some traces of Turkish or Greek influences, particularly in the fast foods and deserts.

Dubrovnik has no McDonald, and there isn't any Starbucks shop in Croatia.

The tap water in Croatia is drinkable, and of very high quality. The water contains a high mineral content, important to know when you use a dishwasher or an iron.

SA DIRECT ENROLL SPRING

Program fee $ 2980 for Dubrovnik campus and $3375,00 for Zagreb
campus

Round trip airfare, Meals, Textbooks, Visa process (if applicable), Other miscellaneous personal expenses

Additional estimated expenses: $3400,00

Housing in private accommodation
Full on-site support
Cultural experience field trips
Student peer mentor

Summer Psychology in Croatia

- Arrival to Croatia May 19th 2019
- five weeks studying in Zagreb
- Earn 6 credits

Zagreb, Croatia

2 courses

- PSYC 221 - Abnormal Psychology
- PSYC 239 - Positive Psychology
- Pre-requisite: Introduction to Psychology

- one-week course-integrated study tour led by Rochester and Croatian faculty

Travel to Austria and Germany

Students pay discounted tuition for 6 credits $1860; Application deadline February 1st 2019

Summer Communication in Croatia

Explore communication practices from an international perspective

- Arrival to Dubrovnik on May 19th
- Welcome dinner in the Old Town
- Ashley Colburn, two-time Emmy award winner is teaching Public Speaking course
- Day trip to Mostar in Bosnia

Dubrovnik, Croatia

Courses

- COMM 201 - Public Speaking
- COMM 304 - Intercultural Communications
- Pre-requisites: None

- 5 weeks of classes in Dubrovnik
- Followed by week long travel tour to Greece with Rochester faculty and Ashley Colburn

Travel to Greece

Students pay discounted tuition for 6 credits $1860; Application deadline February 1st 2019

CONTACT

RIT CROATIA
Don Frana Bulića 6
20 000 Dubrovnik
www.croatia.rit.edu

RIT Croatia Study Abroad Office
Tel. +385(0)20 433 000
Fax. +385(0)20 433 001
E-mail: sa@croatia.rit.edu

Mrs. Petra Vodopija Borković
Petra.vodopija-borkovic@croatia.rit.edu

Mrs. Manuela Mrkajić