Explore communication practices from an international perspective while studying in Croatia.

Highlights:

- Spend first five weeks strengthening your cross-cultural communication skills while studying in the historical seaside city of Dubrovnik.
- Develop cultural self-awareness and gain confidence in effectively communicating in a global context.
- Experience real world examples of different communication styles as you immerse yourself in another culture and learn how communication influences cultural understanding.
- Earn 6 credits that can be used towards a communications immersion.
- Participate in a one-week course-integrated study tour at the end of the program to Greece.
- Pay discounted tuition for 6 credits - students pay the Croatia rate of tuition.

Program Details

- Term: Summer
- Location: Dubrovnik, Croatia
- Program dates: May 19, 2019-June 29, 2019 (Study Tour June 22-June 29)
  (Travel dates are subject to change. Do not make travel plans until you are accepted to the program and receive instructions to make travel arrangements from the professor).
- Application deadline: February 1, 2019

Course Details

- Total Credits: 6
- Courses:
  COMM 201 - Public Speaking
  COMM 304 - Intercultural Communications
- Pre-requisites: None
- Credits may count towards communications immersion or general education credits. Students should discuss with their academic advisor how credits will count towards their degree program.
• Program open to graduate students: No.

Program Eligibility

• Open to all undergraduate majors.
• Have a minimum 2.5 GPA (students under the minimum GPA may be considered on case-by-case basis)

All students who study abroad must:

• Have a clear conduct record with RIT
• Be an RIT matriculated student at the time of the program
• Have a valid passport at the time of travel
• Be able to obtain any necessary visa documents on your own.
• Have no financial holds on at the time of your program acceptance/confirmation

Please note that you cannot audit study abroad courses.

Program Cost
Most study abroad programs typically charge tuition, a program fee to cover housing and program excursions, and out-of-pocket expenses such as your flight, food and spending money. Student budget worksheet is attached.

To Apply:
1) Schedule appointment with your home campus advisor
2) Fill out an application form and e-mail the form with all needed documents to iocr@rit.edu

A couple of weeks after the application deadline you will receive an email regarding your acceptance. You will typically have one week from the time of your acceptance to confirm your participation in the program, at which time RIT Croatia will inform your home campus finance office to bill your with a non-refundable deposit.

Location #1

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Location(s)*</th>
<th>City*</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Dubrovnik</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Country*</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Croatia</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Language of Instruction</th>
<th>English</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Field(s) of Study</td>
<td>Communications &amp; Media</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Credit</td>
<td>Academic Credit</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Degree Level</td>
<td>Undergraduate</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Internship</td>
<td>No</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
Available?
Research Available? No
Duration Summer: 6 weeks
Term(s) Summer
Confirm Participation By Feb 1st 2019