Job Purpose

Rochester Institute of Technology Dubai invites applicants to apply for an Adjunct Faculty position to teach in the Micro Credential for People of Determination within the New Media Design program. We are seeking candidates with expertise in New Media Design and an interest in inclusive, accessible, and human-centred design practices. Ideal candidates will be able to guide students in developing creative and interdisciplinary projects that respond to the needs, experiences, and aspirations of People of Determination. Candidates should bring diverse perspectives and professional experience that contribute to a broader understanding of how design, emerging technologies, and creative practice can support inclusion, participation, and accessibility. Experience working with People of Determination, inclusive education, accessibility, assistive technologies, or related community initiatives is desirable.

Required Qualifications

- Minimum a Masters, preferably an MFA or PhD degree in Graphic Design, Visual Communication, New Media Design, or a related discipline, or equivalent terminal degree.
- Demonstrated experience in New Media Design, inclusive design, accessible design, human-centred design, or related creative practices.
- Teaching experience, preferably in higher education, professional training, workshops, or community-based learning.
- Relevant professional or industry experience.
- Knowledge of contemporary digital design tools and emerging technologies relevant to New Media Design, especially Adobe Suite.
- Experience working with People of Determination, accessibility, inclusive education, assistive technologies, or related community initiatives is desirable.
- Ability to contribute in meaningful ways to RIT Dubai's continuing commitment to cultural diversity, pluralism, inclusion, accessibility, and individual differences.

Application Procedure

Please email your application to careersdubai@rit.edu and include the followings in your application:
