Things to know about your RIT Housing application

Meal Plans

Students who live in the residence halls, Greek Circle, RIT Inn, and 175 Jefferson must have a meal plan. You will select your meal plan on your housing contract. Learn about meal plans at rit.edu/dining.

Smoker/Nonsmoker/No Preference

All residential communities are smoke-free. Smoking cannot occur anywhere inside the building, including the rooms. Accurate information regarding smoking habits is critical to your roommate(s) and room selection. Answer this question on your housing contract honestly. RIT's Tobacco Restricted Campus policy can be found at: <http://bit.ly/UniversityTobaccoPolicy>.

Community Support for Your Success

RIT Housing and The Center for Residence Life support the success of 6,500 students living in RIT housing. In addition to Resident Advisors, you have a team of full-time professionals that provide leadership for all administrative and programmatic functions that enhance your living experience.

RIT Housing

RIT Housing is located in Grace Watson Hall. We assist with housing assignments, lock outs, key losses, and questions regarding your housing billing.

We offer a variety of housing solutions with a wide range of rent rates. These include single to multiple occupancy housing, residence halls, Greek housing, and apartment and suite-style options. Laundry, utilities, and all functional amenities are included. RIT housing contracts coincide with the academic year. Students leaving for co-op, research, or study abroad can rest assured that they can end their housing contract with no fee or subletting needed.

Selecting your housing has never been easier with myLife, our online portal that enables you to complete all of your housing business. Submit housing contracts, and submit maintenance requests all in one spot.

Residence Life

A great benefit of RIT Housing is the on-site RIT Residence Life community staff.

Resident Advisors (RAs) are upperclass student staff who play an important part in your campus living experience. RAs are our campus leaders and your first line of support. They facilitate activities and encourage participation in campus activities.

- Provide an engaging environment and encourage participation in community events.
- Help develop a community within their assigned area.
- Answer general questions and provide roommate conflict resolution.
- Directly supervised by full-time staff, Residence Coordinators.

Residence Coordinators (RCs) serve as coaches and counsel students, develop and support residential and institute wide events and initiatives, serve as conduct officers, resolve roommate conflicts, and serve as advisors to student organizations and special interest houses.

RIT's Expectations for Community Behavior

Responsibility, support, respect, integrity and strong moral character are valued and expected within and outside of the RIT community. As members of the RIT campus community, including students, trustees, faculty, staff, and administrators, we will:

- Demonstrate civility, respect, decency, and sensitivity towards our fellow members of the RIT community, and recognize that all individuals at this university are part of the larger RIT family, and as such are entitled to the support and mutual respect that they deserve.
- Conduct ourselves with the highest standards of moral and ethical behavior. Such behavior includes taking responsibility for our own personal choices, decisions, and academic and professional work.
- Affirm through the daily demonstration of these ideals that RIT is a university devoted to the pursuit of knowledge and a free exchange of ideas in an open and respectful climate.

RIT Dining

rit.edu/dining

RIT Dining offers diverse cuisine in vegan, allergen-friendly, international, and staple meals. Restaurants, coffee shops, grab and go, and convenience stores are spread throughout campus with an option to order online and pick up in-store. Late night eats, morning coffee chats, Rochester area visiting chefs, and dining events enhance your campus living experience and provide common ground for solidifying friendships.

Meal Plans

The meal plans are convenient, easy to use, and save money. Meal plans are tied directly to your RIT ID card making purchases contactless and quick. All meal plans include Dining Dollars, which saves you NY state 8% sales tax. All students living in the residence halls and RIT Inn are required to have a meal plan. Find the right plan for you at rit.edu/dining.

Dining Dollars and Tiger Bucks

Dining Dollars is a form of payment that is embedded into a meal plan or can be added to a dining account. Dining Dollars are used to purchase perishable and non-perishable groceries and food items. Funds rollover each semester until graduation.

Tiger Bucks is a form of payment that can be used to purchase food and non-food items at various retail locations around campus, including Barnes & Noble, hockey game tickets, and printing fees. These funds can be added at any point and roll over until graduation.

Adding funds to your dining account is easy. You have access to transaction history and can request funds from family. Details can be found at tigerspend.rit.edu.

Dietary and Allergy-Related Needs

Keeping students safe is at the center of the food allergy and intolerance policy program at RIT. Students are encouraged to meet with the on-campus registered dietitian to create a plan for safe eating on campus. Additionally, NetNutrition is a tool used to easily access nutritional information on foods served at the dining locations. If students need accommodations related to allergies or other dietary needs (e.g. peanut/tree nut free classroom designation), the Disability Services Office can help. See page 23 for more information.

Over 75 different international cuisines are served on campus.

RIT Dining includes restaurants, coffee shops, concessions, convenience stores, grab and go, and a catering department.

excited

“You meet people and people are excited to meet others and start friendships.”

Disability Service Office

rit.edu/disabilityservices

The Disability Services Office DSO is dedicated to facilitating equitable access for the full RIT experience for students with disabilities. Students with all types of disabilities and access needs are encouraged to request accommodations with the Disability Services Office.

While there is no deadline for accommodation requests, students with housing access needs should begin working with DSO early as possible in order to align with the RIT housing selection and assignment process. Late accommodation requests may result in a “pending availability” status and may not be available before the semester begins. Any housing requests made throughout the academic year and for spring term will also stipulate that they are “pending availability”.

Note: Students requesting housing accommodations with the Disability Services Office must also submit a housing contract to RIT Housing. The accommodation process can be started as soon as a student is officially enrolled at RIT. Details found at rit.edu/disabilityservices/student-resources

Parking & Transportation

rit.edu/parking

Parking and Transportation Services administers parking and transportation services at RIT.

Having a car is not required or necessary. Alternate modes of transportation include the free on and off-campus shuttle, bicycling, ride-sharing, and walking. RIT Transportation Services offers a robust schedule of shuttles for both on and off-campus travels. Shuttle services are available for transportation between the Residential areas and academic areas on campus. Students in RIT Housing are required to register their vehicle and purchase a Residential Permit.

Public Safety

rit.edu/publicsafety

The Public Safety Department patrols campus seven days a week, 52 weeks a year and provides services dedicated to creating a safe community for the RIT campus. All Officers are trained in emergency medical procedures, CPR, automated external defibrillators, American Sign Language, and crisis intervention.

Blue light security boxes are installed all around campus for emergencies, a car escort, lockouts, and more. Download the TigerSafe app to be a finger tap away.

ResNet

rit.edu/resnet

ITS Resnet provides technical support for machines personally owned by RIT students. Resnet offers a wide range of services from basic machine tune-up and virus scans to file recovery and limited hardware replacement. Friendly Residential Computing Consultants are on hand to assist our customers in troubleshooting and resolving a wide variety of computer issues.
