

In exchange for the use of SAS/PC for Windows software ("Software") on an RIT or personal computer or workstation, I (a registered RIT student, RIT faculty or RIT staff) agree that:

- The software is the copyrighted property of SAS Institute Inc. Neither Rochester Institute of Technology ("RIT") nor I own the software or any of the copies provided.
- RIT licenses the Software and annually pays a license fee in order to provide a limited number of licenses to registered RIT students, faculty and staff on an annual basis. I agree to use the Software for academic purposes in the U.S. only and understand that any commercial or profit-making use of the Software is strictly prohibited.
- Source code underlying the object code provided with the Software ("Source Code") is a SAS Institute trade secret, which I am not authorized to access. I may not reverse assemble, reverse engineer or decompile the software or otherwise attempt to access the Source Code.
- I will not copy the Software and will not permit access to the software by others.
- If I am no longer faculty, a registered student or staff of RIT, or when requested to do so by SAS INSTITUTE INC or RIT, I will return my copy of the Software to the appropriate official at RIT, delete, and destroy any copies within my control.

You must indicate which category your SAS usage falls into by checking the appropriate box. In addition, your email address will be added to a new RIT SAS Users listserv for communication and community support. If left unchecked, the form will be returned to you:

Teaching & Research: As defined by SAS, software used for purposes of classroom instruction, academic research, and course work primarily related to customer's post-secondary degree requirements. Used by students, faculty, and staff supporting such use.

Administrative Purposes: As defined by SAS, software used for purposes directly related to customer's operations as a post-secondary degree granting institution. This includes institutional research and any such use related to reporting about the University to the University. Such software may be used by customer's administrative employees (including faculty performing administrative duties) for such administrative purposes.

I have read this agreement, understand it, and accept its terms.
