Classification (Account Type)

- Faculty Persons whose prime RIT responsibility is teaching credit courses or special courses under the auspices of one of the colleges; those who hold faculty rank (Instructor, Assistant Professor, Associate Professor, or Professor) but are not currently teaching; Educational Development Faculty and Adjunct Faculty.
- Staff Any non-faculty (exempt or non-exempt) RIT employee.
- F&A Persons requiring an additional user account for use in the FINANCE Computer Domain—selecting this box must accompany selection of another account type (Staff, Student Employee, etc...)
- Student Employee Accounts created for student employees as defined under section 2.02 of the Student Employee Supervisors' Handbook. This includes the four categories: regular student employee, academic direct hires, on-campus co-op employees, and graduate assistants. Unless otherwise specified, these accounts (and any associated FINANCE account) will be set to expire one year from the creation date.
- Department Accounts created for facilitating departmental business. For example, a department account may contain the web site files for a department. The ultimate responsibility of a department account resides with the department head.
- Authentication Only Accounts created for access to the RIT Wireless Network only, and do not have email or other additional access.
- Other Accounts created for individuals who are neither students nor employees of RIT. This includes temporary or contract employees or vendors. Unless otherwise specified, these accounts will be set to expire one year from the creation date.

Section IV - Authorization

Account creations and modifications require a requester's and the Department Head's signature. Account deletions require only the signature of the Department Head.
