3 Ways to ROAR this Week:

- Get help with math and physics. The Bates Study Center and Sol Study Center provide FREE math and physics walk-in tutoring. Stop in anytime that these centers are open and a tutor will help you.
- Get help with writing assignments. From research papers to lab reports, the RIT Writing Center consultants can help you build writing skills at any stage of the process. Schedule an appointment to meet in-person or online.
- Get help with presentation skills. Do you have to give a presentation for any final projects? Get tips and practice ahead of time during drop-in hours at the Expressive Communication Center, or make an appointment.
