

ROAR & SOAR

RIT | College of Liberal Arts

Explore Your Options

Successful students take the time to explore their options and confidently build a path that's right for them.

3 Ways to ROAR this Week:

- Match your strengths to your career path. Your interests, skills, and personality should align with your major and future career. Explore self-assessments with RIT's Career Services team to figure out if you're in right major for you and what your career path could look like.
- Check your major's co-op and experiential learning options. RIT is known for it's co-op program, but that's just one way to get hands-on experience related to your major. Check out all of the experiential learning options available in your major, including what can qualify for a co-op requirement.
- Discover immersions and minors. Start exploring your options this week! All students must complete an immersion in a subject outside their major. You can also add a minor to complement your major, which helps you stand out to employers.

How do your strengths align with careers?
Find out with a self-assessment.

Calendar Spotlight

Change of Major Fair

WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 24, 12:00 p.m.-2:00 p.m., SHED Atrium

Immersion and Minors Fair

WEDNESDAY, OCT. 8, 11:00 a.m.-1:00 p.m., Student Alumni Union (SAU) Fireside Lounge