

Clark Internship Support Fund

The Clark Internship Support Fund supports internships and co-ops for students enrolled in the degree programs of the College of Liberal Arts. It is intended to provide partial financial assistance to students who wish to accept professionally valuable internships and co-ops that do not include sufficient levels of financial support. Awards shall be based on academic merit or financial need, at the discretion of the award committee, and though the award is available to both men and women, preference shall be given to women enrolled in the programs of the College.

The College of Liberal Arts reviews applications for Clark internship assistance each fall and spring. (See application dates below.) Applicants must be Liberal Arts degree program students who plan to go on a co-op or internship during the upcoming fall, spring, or summer semesters.

Application deadlines: October 22nd (spring co-ops/internships)
March 1st (summer or fall co-ops/internships)

For a copy of the application form click here. (Either print and fill out the form or download the fillable pdf.)

Completed application forms and verification of co-op/internship acceptance should be sent to:

John Smithgall
Assistant Dean, Director of Student Services
College of Liberal Arts
jssgla@rit.edu