Pyramid Model Framework

The Pyramid Model is a framework that provides programs with guidance on how to promote social emotional competence in all children and design effective interventions that support young children who might have persistent challenging behavior. It also provides practices to ensure that children with social emotional delays receive intentional teaching. To learn more about the Pyramid Model, please visit ChallengingBehavior.org.

As part of our programs commitment to implementing the Pyramid Model, we meet regularly to discuss strengths, needs and develop action plans. If you would be interested in providing feedback to the group, please choose the way most comfortable for you from options below:

- ☐ Written feedback
- ☐ Having a conversation with a staff member about my ideas
- ☐ Joining a meeting to provide feedback
- ☐ I would like to know more about the Pyramid Model before providing feedback
- ☐ No, thank you. I am not interested in providing feedback at this time.

We are proud to partner with Ashley Bringenberg to provide an optional Picture Day for your child here at Margaret's House each year in Early October. Our priority is the safety and well-being of the children in our care, and we want children's first school photos here to be a positive experience. Her services have reduced the stress and tears for children within the photography sessions while creating some amazing portraits.

To prepare for these picture days, Ashley Bringenberg connects with families via email to provide easy, seamless service for reminders and ordering links. She does not use this email for a mailing list of any sort. If you would like to take advantage of this communication, please provide the email(s) you would like us to give to Ashley Bringenberg (only 1 is necessary):
