

Lab. Plans to Staff Plant With Deaf Only

The Kohlman Laboratories of Milwaukee is trying to establish a factory for the deaf in Delavan. They will employ about twenty deaf people in Delavan to try them out. Then if they can handle the job very well, they will call more deaf people. This company has employed several deaf people in its Milwaukee plant and is so well satisfied with their work that they want to open a factory where they will employ only deaf.—Wisconsin Times.
