Hands-on Experiences
EYF activities expose you to careers in:

- Art
- Business
- Computer science
- Engineering
- Health sciences
- Information technology
- Science

You’ll work with career counselors and faculty in small group settings to:

- Determine your interests and learning styles
- Develop decision-making skills
- Increase your confidence
- Develop personal awareness
- Build your leadership skills and independence
- Learn how your interests translate into a successful career

Role Models
Deaf, hard-of-hearing and hearing faculty, staff and EYF orientation counselors serve as role models, introduce you to life on a college campus and provide support for students who may be away from home for the first time.

Financial Aid Options
- RIT/NTID offers a limited number of scholarships based on financial need. Visit www.rit.edu/NTID/EYFScholarship to apply for a scholarship.
- In some states, the Office of Vocational Rehabilitation (VR) or a similar office may pay some of the program fee. Contact your state VR office to learn more.
- Schools in some states include the EYF program as part of a student’s Individual Education Plan (IEP). If so, the program fee is covered. To learn more about this, contact your school.
- Community service organizations such as Lions Club International, Quota International, Sertoma International, Kiwanis International and United Way sometimes provide assistance. Contact them directly to see if they are able to provide support. There also may be other agencies in your community you can contact for support.

Parent Involvement
On the final day of the program, EYF offers a parent workshop where your parents or guardians can learn strategies that will help them help you achieve a successful transition from high school to college. Your parents or guardians will:

- Meet with your EYF counselor and discuss your career awareness experiences
- Meet RIT/NTID admissions counselors to discuss your admissions eligibility
- Receive information and have the opportunity to ask questions about financial aid

EYF Program Fee: $700
Includes room, board and activities. You should bring spending money.
