

Faculty Forecast for September

Welcome to the first edition of Faculty Forecast for 2018-2019.

This is going to be another exciting academic year! Although it still feels like summer, we hope that you are ready to share that new year energy with new students and new faculty colleagues. Faculty Career Development is here to enrich this academic year with faculty learning activities and resources. This brief digest will keep you informed of upcoming opportunities designed just for you.

FACULTY MINI-GRANTS

Stay tuned for the official launch of Faculty Career Development's annual mini-grants on October 5. There are grants available to all faculty for professional enrichment and to build and foster mentoring activities. View the timeline with links to each grant for details.

FREE SUBSCRIPTIONS

FCD offers all RIT faculty FREE subscriptions to Academic Leader and The Teaching Professor. Learn how to access here.

NEW FACULTY

Get to know your new colleagues and learn about their teaching and research interests: New Faculty Online Roster. If you are a new faculty member and would like your information added, email FCDS@rit.edu.

Watch your mailbox for an invitation to a special author visit in December. FCD is always seeking faculty input for programming and events that will enrich your teaching and scholarship. Please send us your ideas for consideration.

Stay up to date with what's trending in Faculty Development by following us on Facebook and Twitter.

