Interviews with Potential Research Advisors and Committee Members

In order to encourage substantial faculty-new graduate student interaction, you are encouraged to meet and discuss research or project ideas with as many faculty as possible. Please obtain signatures from those with whom you have conversed. The visits may be as long or as short as agreeable to the parties involved. This process occurs in the first year of the program.

When you have chosen your research advisor, return this completed form to the Chair of the Graduate Committee and the Director of the Material Science and Engineering Program.
