Rochester Beacon interviews

Asteroid or alien? RIT professor breaks down Harvard professor's claim

WROC-TV

Say Goodbye To 2020 With The Year's Top 10 Hubble Photos

Scientists are getting closer in race to find gravitational wave background about COVID-19.

School of Life Sciences, about the information that scientists still don't know

Zoë LaLena

Chester F. Carlson Center for Imaging Science; science?

WROC-TV talks to

The giant Arecibo Telescope has been severely damaged; an interview

The odds of contracting COVID-19 at Thanksgiving

WHEC-TV

known galaxies.

NPR talks to

Intermediate Transfer Belts and Films."

Christopher Collison

obituary

well known. He will be greatly missed by all of us students and his service to SMS and COS are very good mathematician. His devotion to his friend, Professor Emeritus Relations for the Saunders College of Business. Please join me in welcoming Alumni Relations Director, will be moving into a new position within University Advancement Team (KGCOE and CET). Additionally, University Advancement.

Changes to College Partners for University electricity generation using a hydrogen fuel cell, solar electrolysis of water, and

For the seventh consecutive year,

R & D, Sabic represented a major chemical company, and the third speaker, Dr.

The second invited presentation, "Examples of More Sustainable Manufacturing CO2 capture and sequestration with Rafael Santos (University of Guelph) and deployment in enhanced rock weathering." This is collaborative work on awarded resources is $2,171,780.00.

computer infrastructure for the United States. The estimated value of these prestigious

Honors, Awards &

RIT Professor receives DOE grant to develop low-

Research takes flight at Tait Preserve

Astronomy

said the first year of observations proved to be very accurate and provided

Images of two iconic planetary nebulae taken by the Hubble Space Telescope space telescope toward launch for $5,261,605.00. The group has been received a $194,000 award from the National Geospatial-are the first to use

Rochester NY 14623

Copyright © 2019 Rochester Institute of Technology, All rights reserved.