accomplishments of COS faculty, students, and staff for acknowledgement in

COS Newsmakers Form

researcher/engineer II, both in the Chester F. Carlson Center for Imaging

Walter Hopkins

Argonne Voices

Christy Tyler

$483,088.00 contract from DOD National Reconnaissance Office to support a of Naval Research / Jacobs Engineering Group Inc. to support a project titled

Eddingsaas

Sponsored Research

Chester F. Carlson Center for Imaging Science and

Fairchild presented on "Individual differences and the color science of images" published in the

On November 1, guest speaker,

AI (CHAI), published "Conservation of orbital angular momentum and is relevant to laser Terrazas (Southern Methodist University).

Two

approach in multi-platform remote sensing data

Science, recently collaborated with the Department of Earth and Space strategies and perturbation timings for suppressing abnormal wave patterns

Planar Beat Forms is a 2020 RIT graduate of the the Gosnell School of Life Sciences. Previous to that, Lori worked for two years as the Academic Coordinator,

Gender, to taking action to make this college a place that values and supports

Diversity, Equity and Inclusion goes far beyond simply hired

Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion in the college, serving as leaders to carry these devotion to the success of the chapter.

The Society of Physics Students has recognized the

RIT Wins SPS Distinguished Chapter Award

Michael Izaguirre

Cooperative (ITLC) Lily

and software to recover obscured and illegible text on historical documents.

Researching the Health of Our Freshwater

When the James Webb Space Telescope (JWST) launches, it will mark the telescope

Institute of Technology are revealing important information about how pulsars—recommendations for the next 10 years.

Exploration Program.

Brown Hall begins its evolution to research lab improve the internal computing memory system to enable scalable and more important new light on the nature of gravitational waves. They include a

LIGO-Virgo-KAGRA Collaboration announces 90

this college.

proud that they are able to give back to the university community that means so

Brandy

Alumnus and COS External Advisory Board member

Jeffrey Harris named chair of RIT Board of Trustees

continued support of the College of Science.

its power and promise. Dr. Jeyhan Kartaltepe and Dr. Don Figer will soon

When the incoming class swelled to more than 3,000 students, our faculty, celebrate and be grateful for.

Message from the Dean

November & December 2021

Our student leaders are creating opportunities for AALANA students to offered through RIT's Division of Diversity and Inclusion. Certification is Through the IE initiative, 68 faculty have participated in a year-long school. A host of courses and workshops are offered this semester, including

February 10 is the day for upcoming lectures, featuring speakers who bring students perspectives on topics as diverse as design, architecture, and Materials Science and Engineering.