

Thanksgiving Invitation for International Students

Thanksgiving is a U.S. National Holiday, celebrated on Thursday, November 24, 2016. If you would like to share this American holiday with a host family, please fill out the form in the link below to be matched with a local family through Rochester Global Connections.

If you already have a Friendship Volunteer, please check with them first to see if they plan on hosting you for Thanksgiving Dinner***

Thanksgiving Application for students

The deadline to register is Monday, Oct. 31! Make sure to sign up before then. Students will be matched with families in the order the requests are received.

Rochester Global Connections is a local organization that promotes international understanding and cultural exchange between our community and international students and international visitors, through its membership and programs. If you're interested in learning more about their events/activities, please visit their website.
