How does my meal plan work?

• A meal plan is a prepaid account for your on-campus meals. At the start of the term, you pay for a predetermined plan to cover your meals throughout the semester/academic year. To purchase a meal, you swipe your RIT ID card and the meal or meal cost is deducted from your meal plan.

• The Tiger Meal Plans have meal exchanges, valued at $9.50. Exclusive to these plans, meal exchanges are included in the total meals per week. Meal Exchanges may be used in any Dining location except for Nathan's Soup & Salad and Java Wally’s.

• Meals and meal exchanges are not transferable week to week. The total meal and meal exchange balances are reset for breakfast on Sunday and go through dinner on Saturday night. Meals and meal exchanges that are not used are not rolled over into the next week.
Dining Dollars vs. Tiger Bucks

• Dining Dollars
  o Used for food purchases only at all locations excluding Java Wally’s o Set amount given for each dining plan per semester or can be added as needed via eServices.rit.edu o Can be rolled over from fall to spring and expire at the end of spring semester o No sales tax charge (8%)

• Tiger Bucks
  o Can be used on food and non-food items o Can be rolled over for entire academic career and expire upon leaving the university o Charged 8% sales tax on all purchases o You can add funds at any time via eservices.rit.edu
