Women’s Council of RIT Endowed Scholarship

Application

Scholarship Criteria:

Recipients Must:

• Be women students in any program of study at RIT (graduate or undergraduate).
• Maintain an overall, cumulative GPA of 3.0 or better.
• Be enrolled in a full-time program of study during the next academic year (if you are graduating at the end of this semester, you do not qualify to apply)
• Have strong community/campus involvement.
• Have excelled in spite of exceptional/difficult personal or family circumstances.
• Demonstrate financial need. (Financial need will be verified with Financial Aid)

Scholarships are not renewable, reflecting the Council’s efforts to reach a helping hand to a new woman each year. The Center for Women and Gender administers this scholarship.

Background:

The Women’s Council was founded by Marcia Ellingson, daughter of RIT’s fourth president, John Randall, and wife of RIT’s fifth president, Mark Ellingson. The purpose of the Council is to stimulate interest and promote understanding of RIT within the community, to provide an educational program about the Institute to its members, and to be of service to the university. The Council is committed to participating in a variety of projects that advance the interest in and support of RIT. Annually, the Council funds several scholarships and awards for women and donates toward tuition scholarships for RIT’s childcare center, Margaret’s House.

Requirements:

Complete the following document and submit to The Center for Women and Gender (Campus Center, room 1760) by March 15th, 2016.

Submit an essay describing how you have excelled in spite of exceptional/difficult personal or family circumstances.
Women’s Council of RIT Endowed Scholarship

Application

Name:
College:

Year Level:
Program of Study:

Student ID#:
Anticipated graduation semester and year:

Phone#:

Preferred email address for updates:

Please describe your community/campus involvement:

Please describe how you have excelled in spite of exceptional/difficult personal or family circumstances: