

Digital Creation Process:

1. Creating Story Elements in Omeka S Database (left), mapping out variable, generative storylines in storyboard linked to database(center), and generating images using LLM AI Prompts, if desired – also able to create your own artwork and graphics (right)

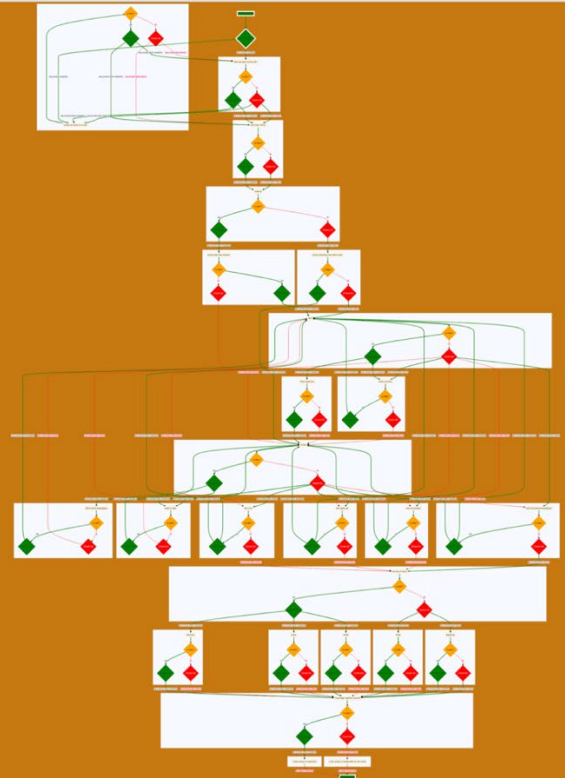

2. Instructional sample – Tom & Jerry (possible images and storyboard of potential plotlines)

3. Examples of Students' Storyboards from 2024

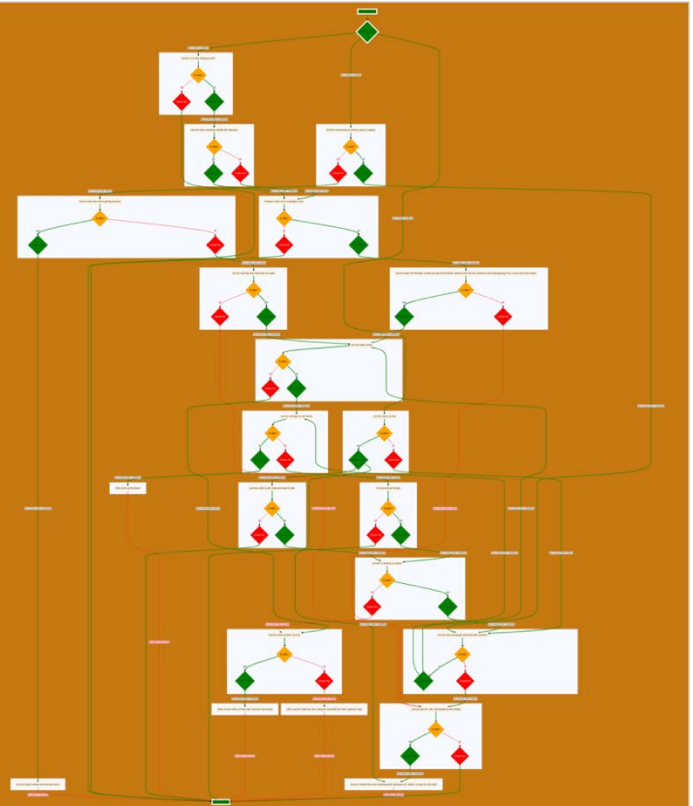

Deen Grey,
Rochester Institute of Technology

How Food
Connects Us

Erica Coles,
Rochester Institute of Technology

Dawn of the
Wasteland: A
College Odyssey

A Future with Artificial Intelligence

The idea is comprised of a interactive poem, accompanied by an artistic representation of a natural world. The project is displayed in 4 parts, with each part representing a season within nature (Spring, Summer, Autumn, & Winter). The logical continuation of the story consists of the accelerated life cycle of a deer, with the Generator being provided with multiple ways in which to influence the course of events that occur within the narrative.

A sample of a 2020 collaborative digital creation team project with RIT and University of Paris-8 students

Work : Preparation

Poetry
Final Ideation & Translations

Where is quiet? Here, do hear Breath is light Sun is hiding In that belly A warm grain Stuck is eating Just to grow	Où est le calme ? Ici, écoutez La brève est légère Le soleil est caché Dans son ventre Une graine a l'estomac Qui ne demande Qu'à pousser
Lying down Quiet mind Far from doubt Of what's hidden And his intentions	Couché L'esprit tranquille Loin de se douter De ce qui est caché Et ses intentions
Sun is up On the trees He is hot Near the leaves Water is stirring And the forest Envelops its woods	Le soleil est levé Sur les arbres Il est chaud Près des feuilles L'eau brille Et la forêt Envoile ses bois
Watching him Marching under Wrists her hands Because she knows Very much They won't be their own	Elle l'observe La marche en silence De ses mains Car elle sait Très bien Qu'ils ne seront plus leurs
Comes hunger Innocent on one side Threatening on the other	Arrive la faim Innocente d'un côté Menaçante de l'autre
Leaves are getting older Wind sweeps them Ready from each other But she doesn't want To do the same She's getting closer Just to love him	Les feuilles vieillissent Le vent les balaye Légers les uns des autres Mais elle ne veut pas En faire de même Elle se rapproche Pour l'aimer

All is sad Even birds The water 's bored And calls For a little company	Tout est triste Même les oiseaux L'eau s'ennuie Et appelle Pour un peu de compagnie.
Comes pain Forest applauds And recovers What comes again Each summer	La douleur arrive La forêt applaudit Et récupère Ce qui revient Chaque été
As long as life Will be here He'll be there Where is quiet? Here, so near Just before The last shot	Tant que la vie Sera présente ici Il sera là Où est le calme ? Là, si près Juste avant Le dernier tir

