Learning Kit: Critical Thinking & Problem Solving

It is estimated that an average adult ends up making over 35,000 decisions a day. Knowing we encounter that many decisions daily, we need to make sure that we are considering various options, evaluating data, and deciding soundly, but what does it take to gain those skills? Critical thinking and problem solving are essential in our positions and our personal lives. It is also in the top five skills that employers look for when hiring and promoting.
