

Li Kai will be a Chinese sign language interpreter at the Summer Leadership Institute. She is an associate professor at TUT, and mainly teaches specialized courses on computer science and instruction of deaf students in working on their graduation projects. She was also co-author of a book on specialized sign language on computers.