

Hello. My name is Kathleen McGann, often people call me Kate. I was born and raised in the city of Chicago in the state of Illinois. I am currently 22 years old and have been attending mainstream school all my life. I currently attend College of Imaging and Science (CIAS) under Rochester institute of Technology ( RIT). I am also involved with the sorority of Sigma Sigma Sigma. During my academic years I have been getting more involved with the community and I felt like I have grown a lot from then. I am having a bit of a difficult time based on what I would like to do after college since there are so many opportunities out there.
