

Presentation Description

Title: Literacy for Deaf Adults; Filling in the Gaps

Presenter: David Jackson
Current Post: Freelance I.T. Lecturer/Literacy Tutor
Address: 36, Arden Close, Bradley Stoke, BRISTOL, BS32 8AX, England
Textphone: 0117 969 2574
Fax: 0117 909 0445
SMS: 07909 680 602
e-mail: deaffreelancer@yahoo.co.uk

Description:

The paper is in four parts. The first is the introduction which details possible reasons as to why Deaf children and adults have literacy problems. One main problem is the way English teachers deliver their courses and the fact that 99.9% of them are hearing has a bearing on the way Deaf children learn the language. The second part is the development of the Literacy course and the way it is constructed to fill in the gaps that Deaf children did not have the opportunity to learn properly. This is followed by the third part showing pertinent information about the learners who took part in my course with figures showing their comprehension of the various parts of speech. The final part is a short summing up of the paper..

Presentation Materials:

Literacy for Deaf Adults (Title slide in PowerPoint format.) (PDF)

Handouts from PowerPoint (PDF)

Resources: