- Francisca Rangel
Layne Reed

Wednesday, 6/25/03 -- 3:00 PM
Location: LBJ [060] 2590

Strand: Using Technology to Support Learning
Type: Formal Audience: K-12

Summary: This presentation will share how a team of teachers tackled the tough job of teaching multiple-meaning words by using technology. The teachers used a collaborative and integrated approach that allowed students to create interactive stories using presentation software and digital video.

- Nancy Topolosky

Thursday, 6/26/03 -- 10:00 AM
Location: LBJ [060] 1510

Strand: Using Technology to Support Learning
Type: Formal Audience: K-12

Summary: Since there is little software specifically designed for elementary deaf children it does not mean we need to stop our search. This presentation will take a discerning look at good mainstream educational software which can be used effectively with Deaf children.

The Use of Web-Based Technology in Teaching Reading and Writing to Deaf Students (T11B)

■ Rose Marie Toscano
NTID/RIT

Email: rmtinge@rit.edu
Thursday, 6/26/03 -- 11:00 AM
Location: LBJ [060] 1510

Strand: Using Technology to Support Learning
Type: Formal Audience: All

Summary: This presentation will focus on how traditional classroom instruction can be complemented by the use of web-based technology to create a "hybrid learning" environment. A web-based instructional development tool created by Simon Ting called IdeaTools, and more specifically, the Reading/Writing Tutor, will be demonstrated and its uses in the development of reading and writing skills for deaf students will be discussed. There will also be discussion on how this technology can help students and teachers prepare more effectively for classroom instruction.

Email: gpbnci@rit.edu
■ E. William Clymer

Thursday, 6/26/03 -- 2:00 PM
Location: LBJ [060] 1510

Strand: In-Service/Pre-Service Strategies
Type: Formal Audience: All

Summary: The presenters will discuss the planning, development, delivery, and evaluation of a weeklong teacher-training workshop for international teachers of English to deaf and hard-of-hearing students at postsecondary institutions. The successful use of instructional and multimedia technologies for pre-workshop readings, workshop presentations, hands-on activities, and post-workshop dissemination will be demonstrated.
